

CHARLES S. WATSON, JR.

Co-Founder and Director of the Nevada Outdoor Recreation Association

Charles S. Watson, Jr. was born August 14, 1934, in Cleveland, Ohio to Charles S. Watson, Sr. and Ruth Catherine McAteer Watson. He was reared in Southern California and attended Pasadena City College from 1952-1954. Watson was subsequently drafted into the U.S. Army, serving two years. Upon discharge, he continued his studies at the University of Nevada's Mackay School of Mines where he earned a B. S. in Geology in 1960. Watson's interest with the public domain began as a high school student with field trips into the wilderness of the Mojave Desert and eventually led to his organizing a small group of other enthusiasts to form the Nevada Public Domain Survey whose goal was to completely examine the 48 million acres of Bureau of Land Management land in Nevada to determine parcels that should be preserved as wilderness or utilized for recreation. He was instrumental in developing the "Big Book" of Nevada natural resources and traveled widely to lobby members of Congress and other influential people to view the public lands in a different light.

In 1960, Watson was employed by BLM as a cartographic technician in Reno, and then as a cartographer with the U.S. Navy in Washington, D.C., and finally with the Air Force in St. Louis. He left federal service in 1972 to continue his conservation activities full-time.

In 1965, the group composing the Public Domain Survey was reorganized into the Nevada Outdoor Recreation Association (NORA). In addition, Watson assembled a related organization, the National Public Lands Task Force to serve as a political arm on behalf of NORA and its interests. He went on to co-author the book The Land No One Knows in 1975 and wrote The Great Terrain Robbery, published in 2009. Watson served as director of the Nevada Outdoor Recreation Association from its inception until 2011, when he encountered significant health issues. Mr. Watson died on April 17, 2012.

Scope and Content of the Collection

The NORA papers consist of approximately 96 boxes of material. The collection is not organized chronologically or by subject matter. It was acquired by the Nevada Historical Society in two donations separated by many years. Thus, the papers are divided into two parts: (1) the "Original Collection" which was initially donated in 1985, with supplemental materials brought in periodically over the next two decades, and (2) the NORA Additions" which were acquired in late 2011. Much of the collection includes printed materials such as Bureau of Land Management (BLM) environmental impact statements, (EIS's) resource management plans (RMPs), draft studies, wilderness recommendations, etc. from areas in Nevada as well as other Western states. There are numerous topographical and other maps from the U.S. Geological Survey and U.S. Forest Service for public areas throughout the United States. Included are BLM newsletters, brochures, maps, NORA newsletters, and related publications. The papers also include a large number of travel and recreation pamphlets from every state of the union as well as many foreign countries.

A plethora of photographs, almost all of which are in 35 mm slide format, represent a large portion of the collection and are estimated to number 28,000. Most are individually annotated on the borders of the slides. Some are in rotary carousel slide trays arranged to present slide shows. There are numerous reference files covering a wide variety of subjects, including subcommittees, the Nature Conservancy, American Land Conservancy, California Desert, Geothermal steam lands, U. S. Territorial lands, BLM Organic Act (Federal Land Policy & Management Act of 1976), Area 51 Research Center, and scores of other subjects. The papers include many different file folders of NORA official correspondence with political figures, government agencies, environmental organizations and others. The correspondence files contain memoranda from 1958 through the early 2000s. There are about a dozen books in the collection, including The Great Terrain Robbery, The Land No One Knows, college textbooks, and books on mineralogy, ecology, etc. There are two folders of Watson family photographs (Box 23 NORA Additions, and box 36 in the Original Collection), several scrapbooks of photos, maps and text on ecological sites throughout the United States. The NORA "Big Book" is located in box 7 of the Original Collection, which is actually contained in a very heavy carrying case, rather than a box.

The financial records consist of NORA ledgers replete with invoices, receipts, hotel bills, film developing expenditures, etc. from the 1960s through 1998. In box 43 of the Original Collection, there are many cassette audio tapes of NORA meetings, minutes, interviews and public hearings. Lastly, there are several VHS video tapes and scrapbooks of photographs, maps and text on ecological sites throughout the U.S.
