RICHARD L. ACTON

Richard Leon Acton was born on August 8, 1942 in Birmingham, Alabama. He was an early achiever. As a Boy Scout, he reached Eagle Scout rank and was a member of the Order of the Arrow. He dropped out of High School in 1959 to join the Navy and never looked back. After discharge in 1963, he returned to Birmingham and enrolled in the University of Alabama. He studied there and at the University of Southern Nevada (now UNLV) where he became a craps dealer at the Flamingo while continuing his studies. Acton graduated with a BA in Political Science from Alabama in 1968. He immediately enrolled in Officer's Candidate School and was commissioned in the Navy at Newport, RI in December 1968. He was a Line Officer and traveled the world in the service of his country. He spent a total of over 20 years in the Navy, attaining the rank of Lt. Commander, retiring with honor and decorations in 1985.

Back home again, Acton settled in Pensacola FL, bought a 30-foot Sloop and sailed the Gulf of Mexico, Florida Keys and the Bahamas for almost three years as he was building a 36-foot Tugette. When finished he started his own company, Acton Marine, doing salvage, rescue, and recovery work. He sold the company and boat in 1990 and enrolled in the University of Western Florida, where he earned his M.S. in Public Administration. Afterwards, he returned to Nevada to enroll in a Doctorate program at the University of Nevada, Reno. He was awarded his Ph.D. in 2002. He served as a professor of political science at the University thereafter. During his tenure, he was among the many technical experts participating in the negotiation and drafting of the Truckee River Operating Agreement which was a significant accomplishment taking many years.

Mr. Acton never married, nor did he have children. He died at his home in Reno on November 11, 2008.

SCOPE AND CONTENT OF THE COLLECTION

The papers of Richard L. Acton consist of a variety of personal records that he kept as a student and maintained in his office at the University of Nevada, Reno during his employment as a professor of political science. The first two boxes contain folders of some of the postgraduate courses he took at the University of Western Florida where he earned his M.S. in Public Administration, and courses he took at the University of Nevada, Reno in pursuit of attaining his Ph.D. Box 3 includes courses he instructed at UNR and Truckee Meadows Community College.

The remainder of the collection includes study materials, research notes, meetings and conferences attended, and other materials relating primarily to studies of the Truckee River water rights issues and the Truckee River Operating Agreement (TROA) in which Richard Acton was involved with for a number of years. More than 27 years in the making, the TROA guides the use of the river that winds from Lake Tahoe to Pyramid Lake and is the primary water source for Reno and Sparks. The long-pursued plan brought the Truckee River's management into modern times, protected the area from protracted droughts and offered a promising future for the region. After years of debate and negotiation, the states of Nevada and California, the U.S. Government, Truckee Meadows Water Authority (TMWA) and the Pyramid Lake Paiute Tribe signed the Truckee River Operating Agreement on September 6, 2008. Implementation began in December 2015.

There are no photographs, certificates or personal items relating to Richard Acton exception folder 10 in Box 1, which contains partnership papers for Acton Marine Ltd. and a picture of the boat Mr. Acton owned from 1990-1992.
