Boxes 60-65 are restricted; the remainder of the collection is open for research.

Biographical Note

John T. Reid, mining engineer, archaeologist, historian, and mathematician, was born in Unionville, Humboldt County, Nevada, on January 16, 1871. He died at his home in Lovelock on August 17, 1943.

Scope and Content of Collection

The John T. Reid papers span the years 1882 to 1949; the bulk of the material is from 1904 to 1943. The material includes business correspondence and business records (largely related to Reid's mining ventures), personal correspondence, and extensive correspondence relating to his scientific research interests, particularly Mayan mathematics and astronomy. Two boxes of newspapers and numerous newspaper clippings are included with the scientific research files.

Major correspondences include C. A. Hitchcock, O. G. Jennings (and his associates), Paul G. Reid (brother), Robert M. Ostrander (nephew), other family members, John A. Runner, Bert Acree, and Walter Steckel.

There is one box of published books that contain Reid's notes and comments, as well as newspaper clippings. The bulk of the mining books that came in with the collection have been integrated into the Nevada Historical Society research collection.

There is also a small collection of the papers of John A. Runner and a small group of papers belonging to family members. The Runner papers include correspondence, mineral surveys, field notes, a field survey book, and a ledger of patent surveys. The papers of other family members include correspondence, financial records, and legal records of Robert M. Ostrander, Patrick K. Reid, Emmet E. Reid, Francis L. Reid, Paul G. Reid, and Rebecca A. Reid.

Acquisition Information

Most of the material in the John T. Reid papers was acquired in two purchases made four decades apart. In October of 1948, Agnes I. Ostrander, sister of John T. Reid and administratrix of his estate, sold the main portion of the papers, as well as books and artifacts, to the Nevada Historical Society. The artifacts included office furniture, ore specimens, fossils, Indian baskets, water jugs, and skeletons. Many of the books, some of the Indian artifacts, and the skeletons have since been dispersed. The papers represented 64 cubic feet in the manuscript collection.

Attorney Clarence L. Young, in Lovelock, handled the legal paperwork for Mrs. Ostrander. Some of Young's papers were inadvertently included and have been removed from the collection.

The second purchase of Reid papers involved approximately 19 cubic feet of personal and business correspondence; records of several mining companies the Reid family was involved with; a number of maps and drawings of mine workings; and a small number of photographs. These records were held by Paul G. Reid (John's brother), who continued a number of the family's business ventures after John's death. Following Paul's death in 1947, these records were retained in the assay office of A. H. "Scotty" Scott, a friend of the Reids, where they remained until the Nevada Historical Society obtained them in 1989 from a documents dealer who had purchased the materials.

A minute book of the Mines Development Company of Nevada, 1904-1926, was donated by Douglas B. McDonald in January of 1992.

Arrangement

Mining records are in boxes 1-46; general business records are in boxes 46-48; personal papers are in boxes 49-57; newspapers are in boxes 57-59; photographic materials are in box 60; scientific research files are in boxes 61-90; and published books with Reid's notes and clippings are in box 91. Maps are in oversize folders in the map collection.

In the 1970s, Dorothy P. Dansie organized the research files of the 1948 element of the collection. The mining records were separated out at this time but were not organized in any systematic manner. In September of 1993, Nadine L. Phinney began integrating the two elements of the collection. A comprehensive organizational scheme for the mining records was devised, and the process of sorting and arranging the mining records began. Completed in mid-1994, the arrangement of the collection consists of mining records, general business records, personal papers, photographic materials, scientific research files, and publications.

Transfers

A number of artifacts were removed from the collection and transferred to the Nevada State Museum Carson City and the University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

D. NEVADA UNITED MINING COMPANY

Arizona corporation, incorporated July 26, 1906. J. T. Reid was the manager, Oliver G. Jennings was the President. Thirty-three claims in the White Cloud Mining District, including the following:

Patented claims in 1910: Imperial (formerly Copper Ingot), Pacific (formerly Vulcan), Sierra (formerly Mount Vesuvius), Planet (formerly Copper Glance), Emperor (formerly Mount Aetna), Uncle Tom (formerly Stone Cabin), Red Oxide, Carbonate, Copper Giant and Copper Ring. These ten claims were patented by 1910; they were acquired by deed from O. G. Jennings and purchased November 1, 1906.

Unpatented claims in 1910: New York claim acquired from O. G. Jennings by deed, November 1, 1906. The King Pin, Chief Prize, Choice Copper, Dandy Copper, Banner Copper, and Copper Prince were secured by deed from J. T. Reid and purchased September 18, 1906. The Clifton, Bisbee, Cananea, Bingham, Hecla, St. Lawrence, Cuprite, Azurite, and Jerome claims were acquired by deed from J. T. Reid and purchased April 22, 1907. Other claims included the Phoenix, Eclipse, Merkel, Burghard, Gillig, Fowler and Lowther. These 23 claims were in the process of being patented in 1910.

In 1910, O. G. Jennings was still President; David R. Fowler was Secretary, and J. T. Reid was Resident Agent of the company.

In December of 1906 there is correspondence with Jennings regarding another mining company with a similar name, the Nevada United Mines Company, also an Arizona corporation with head offices in Denver, CO operating at Ward, Nevada (16 miles south of Ely); resident agent was H. R. Plate (sp.?).

F. BUFFALO VALLEY MINES COMPANY

Arizona corporation, incorporated on January 7, 1916, located in Lander County, Nevada seventeen miles southerly of Valmy. In January of 1916, W. J. Barrette was President and Director; G. A. Marr, Vice President and Director; E. B. Critchlow, Secretary and Director; I. W. Hunter, Treasurer and Director; F. B. Critchlow, Director. The company's business was conducted by a board of directors. Celora Martin Stoddard and M. L. Stoddard, both of Phoenix, AZ, were designated as the resident agents in Arizona.

The first meeting of the board of directors was March 2, 1916 at the office of Pierce, Critchlow & Barrette, 307 McCornick Building, Salt Lake City, Utah. During this meeting, the principal place of business of the company was designated as its mine office at Ankeny, Lander County, Nevada, and James A. McAllep was named resident agent of the company. At this first meeting, F. B. Critchlow presented for consideration by the Board the contract dated January 26, 1916, which he had entered into on behalf of the company with the Buffalo Valley Gold Mining & Leasing Company, and the Mines Development Company of Nevada, for the purchase by this company, in consideration of its entire capital stock to be in part issued and in part retained in the treasury of the Company as provided in said contract, of certain mining claims and mining equipment in Lander County, Nevada. The contract was approved. An option to purchase 226,247 shares of company stock by O. G. Jennings of New York City was also approved.

By April of 1916, O. G. Jennings decided not to purchase any more stock, so there were no funds in the treasury and operations were shut down; see notice to stockholders April 22, 1916. J. T. Reid, one of the principal stockholders, by order of the Board was requested to take charge of the mine until the directors and stockholders directed otherwise. The original directors, whose only interest in the corporation was on behalf of Mr. O. G. Jennings resigned; their resignations were to take effect upon the election of their successors. At a special meeting of the Board, June 17, 1916, the stockholders named J. T. Reid, O. P. Ankeny, E. M. Steninger and Paul G. Reid as Directors of the Company. Resignations of previous directors were accepted.

According to the 1945 tax return, the Buffalo Valley Mines Company was inactive from 1943-1945. Claims included Buffalo Valley Gold Mining & Leasing Company (Iron Point, Indicator, Gold Bug, Independence, Honeycomb, Honeycomb No. 1, Honeycomb No. 2, Honeycomb No. 3, Honeycomb No. 4, Honeycomb No. 5, and April Fool Fraction and water rights in Mill Canyon) and the Mines Development Company of Nevada (Aurum, Ajax, Bliss, Clearwater, Cable, Carmen, Fanny, Fanny No. 1 Fanny No. 2, Fanny No. 3, Gold Coin, Modoc, and Victor and certain interests in and to the waters of Trenton Canyon). Ownership of Night Hawks, Night Hawks No. 1, Night Hawks No. 2, and Night Hawks No. 3 was transferred from J. T. Reid to the company in June of 1936.
